

We wanted to let you all know that we have two solicitations on research related to teen dating violence. The first link is to a stand-alone solicitation for a postdoctoral fellowship for a young researcher to work with existing data on teen dating violence.

The second link is to a broader violence against women solicitation with a section focused on longitudinal data on teen dating violence.

We are excited because both of these ideas came out of the meeting we hosted in June on longitudinal data related to teen dating violence. Please feel free to circulate to folks who may be interested
